Art Unit: 1756

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The compound represented by the general formula I with items (i)-(vi) in Claim 1 and Claims 8-9.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The compound represented by items (i)-(vi) with different core structures and compound with mono-fluorinated thiophene in Claims 8 and 9.

The following claim(s) are generic: Claims 1, 8 and 9.

Art Unit: 1756

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Each species in the claims has different core structure, which also is in different classification.

4. During a telephone conversation with Mr. Russell on 3/30/04 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Example 1 on page 57, claims 1-7 (item (ii) in Claim 1). Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 8-12 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless —

Art Unit: 1756

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brown et al.

(Mol.Cryst. Liq. Cryst., 1989, Vol. 173, pp 121-140).

The reference discloses a three-ring ester containing a furan, which shows nematic and smectic phases. See the formula (III) on page 122 and Figure 5 on page 127, respectively. Also, see the compounds on page 132 and Table V on page 137 for the liquid crystal properties. The reference compounds anticipate the claimed compound.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 2-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown et al. abovementioned.

The reference differs from the present claims in that the present claims are claimed as a liquid crystal mixture and display device thereof. Although the reference does not teach the reference compounds can be used in LCD devices, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art to realize the reference compounds having variation of phase transition and stability, which are useful for liquid crystal mixtures and used in the present LCD devices.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. The elected species of the present Example 1 is allowed. Also, the species containing a pyridinyl or pyrimidinyl ring listed on page 16 to page 20 are allowable.
